Janus Announces Investment Team Appointments

DENVER - Janus CEO Tom Bailey today announced several appointments within the firm's investment team.

Jim Goff, portfolio manager of Janus Enterprise Fund, has been named Director of Research. Mr. Goff's primary responsibilities will include overseeing Janus' research efforts, coaching and training the firm's 43-person analyst team and expanding its stock coverage. To focus solely on his new position, he will relinquish his portfolio management responsibilities at the end of this month. Mr. Goff joined Janus in 1988 and has 15 years of investment experience.

Effective February 1, Jonathan Coleman will become the portfolio manager of Janus Enterprise Fund. He will also become the manager of Mr. Goff's institutional accounts. Mr. Coleman joined Janus in 1994 and has eight years of investment experience, including three years as portfolio manager of Janus Venture Fund.*

Mr. Bailey also appointed Helen Hayes as Managing Director of Investments. Effective February 1, Ms. Hayes will be responsible for directing all portfolio management functions at Janus. She will retain her roles as co-manager of Janus Worldwide Fund* and Janus Overseas Fund.* Ms. Hayes joined Janus in 1987 and has more than 17 years of investment experience.

"This structure will ensure that Janus' research-driven culture continues to be instilled throughout our expanding investment team," Mr. Bailey said. "Our analyst staff has nearly doubled during the last four years and it's critical that each and every one of our analysts is exceptionally trained and mentored. They are the backbone of our research process and integral to our long-term success."

Since Mr. Bailey founded Denver-based Janus in 1969, the firm has focused on providing long-term investment performance through the rigorous analysis and selection of individual companies.
